DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Starr (U.S. 3,189,072).

Starr teaches a container 10 having an upper portion 11 with closure engaging members 12, and a spout with an upward and inward portion at 15 and an upward and outward portion at 14. The closure 20 has a skirt 21 with container engaging members 22. The annular sealing flange is element 25 and the annular upper portion of the inner surface of the skirt is shown at 23.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 4-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed May 27, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Starr does not teach that the rim of the container is wedged into an upwardly converging annular gap. The examiner disagrees with this position because Starr clearly shows in figures 4 and 5 that the upper rim is wedged into the annular gap. Using the dictionary definition cited by Applicant, the upper rim of Starr is forced into a upwardly converging narrow space which results in the deformation of the rim. The movement of the rim of Starr into the upwardly converging annular gap can be considered a wedging movement to the degree set forth in the claim and even to the degree set forth in the dictionary definition cited by Applicant.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
